Conservancy Launches

Fundraising Campaign to Fulfill the Dream

On Sunday, March 20th the Palos Verdes Peninsula Land Conservancy and the City of Rancho Palos Verdes gathered with residents and elected officials to launch a $6 million community fundraising campaign to “Fulfill the Dream” of purchasing land that will complete the 1500-acre Portuguese Bend Nature Preserve.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony, hosted by Bill Ailor and RPV Mayor Larry Clark, was held at the top of Del Cerro Park, overlooking the magnificent slopes of Portuguese Bend with Catalina Island in the distance. This location is especially meaningful because a donor recognition site for the preserve will be created on this spectacular overlook. An estimated 500 Peninsula residents and over 70 community groups cut ribbons and showed their support for the Preserve.

As part of the campaign, the Land Conservancy announced a Legacy Stakeholder program that would allow people to contribute by purchasing an honorary deed representing a portion of the preserve. Patrons who donate $37,000 or more for an honorary deed for a full acre, will be honored with permanent recognition at the Del Cerro site as a lasting tribute and legacy. Also, there will be limited naming opportunities for trails, scenic overlooks, and wilderness areas of the preserve for donors whose gifts exceed $100,000. However, smaller donations are also encouraged and honorary deeds are available for less than one acre. To learn more about the Community Campaign to Preserve Portuguese Bend, call Executive Director Barbara Dye at 310/541-7613 X 205.

Sara Ruth and Elmer Grimes cut ribbons for their homeowners association.

President's Remarks

Now's The Time

Mariposa Circle members demonstrated their support at the Capital Campaign launch on March 20.

Some at the local level thought preserving large blocks of Peninsula open space was a fantasy—we'd never be able to raise the funds. We've done it. We've brought over $13 million to the Peninsula and acquired nearly 300 acres of developable land to date. It's not a fantasy. It can be done.

Some said managing open space would be too expensive—we couldn't afford it if we did preserve it. We've shown that our community is committed to responsible management. Volunteers have donated thousands of hours and donors have contributed thousands of dollars to make it happen.

The Land Conservancy has been instrumental in all of these advances. We have focused community efforts to make our significant open space areas known to County and State officials, to bring funds here for acquisition and management, and to organize an effective land stewardship program.

As a result, our community is poised to make its last, but most significant preservation action—the acquisition of 700 acres and the creation of the Portuguese Bend Nature Preserve. Funding has been identified, we have willing sellers, local and political support is strong. But we need one last thing—we need to raise $6 million locally, a trigger for an acquisition with a total price of nearly $30 million.

So if you're looking for that unique opportunity to leave a legacy in the community where you live—now's the time.

If you want to make a contribution that will define the future of this spectacular area—now's the time.

If you want to preserve a quality of life unique in the South Bay—now's the time.

If you want to assure the preservation of an area where adults and children can enjoy the natural environment and celebrate our creator's wonders—now's the time.

So, if you've been holding back, waiting for us to bring a deal to the table: we've done it. It's on the table, and now's the time to make that larger donation. We need your help. Now.

Those of you who have been with the Conservancy for years know that we have never made a real push for large donations. Our philosophy has been that we will make that push when we have a real, defined, specific need. Well, now's the time.

For the past 15 years, we have been working at a slow but deliberate pace to build the credibility of Palos Verdes as a place where open space should be preserved, to build local support for the preservation of open space, and to show that we could actually manage these areas if they were preserved. We've done all three.

Some at the State level didn't believe that there was actually any significant open space remaining in this part of Los Angeles County. The State is now a partner in preserving these lands.

Capital Campaign News

Fulfill the Dream...

We are so fortunate in the South Bay to enjoy so many outstanding assets like our schools, hospitals, shops and of course our wonderful people. But in particular we have a very valuable and unique asset and that is our open space. An asset that many communities do not have to enjoy.

As stewards of our community, we must be diligent about preserving this asset, for once it is gone, it is gone forever and cannot be brought back.

The Palos Verdes Peninsula Land Conservancy is working very hard to acquire, preserve and maintain peninsula open space with the dream of creating a 1,500 acre nature preserve in Portuguese Bend. We are honored to chair the Capital Campaign to raise the six million dollars needed from the community, to make this dream a reality.

We invite the communities of the South Bay to join us in this effort, and to embrace our goal to preserve the scenic beauty of our coastal open space. So we can enjoy it ourselves, as will our children and many generations to come.

Jim Scharffenberger, Co-Chair Wayne Sharp, Co-Chair

Spread the Word...

We need your help to make this Capital Campaign a success. We're creating a community-wide team to take the message of this window of opportunity to the entire Peninsula. Please fill out the form below to let us know how you can help, or call the office to volunteer.

Thanks to the work of our dedicated volunteers, we have produced an assortment of Capital Campaign materials. These include a 7-minute DVD that has been very well received, a case statement, a questions and answers document, t-shirts, removable window decals, and more. If you'd like to help spread the news about the campaign, please stop by the office to pick up a decal and DVD to show the community that you support the campaign.

The state agencies that have committed to provide funds appreciate receiving letters of support. If you'd like to let them know how you feel about preserving this open space, address your letter "To Whom It May Concern," ask them to preserve Portuguese Bend, and add a sentence about why you think it's important. Sign your name and address and send it to us for delivery.

We appreciate all your help!

Linden H. Chandler Preserve

Interpretive signs have been installed near the Rolling Hills Little League field. The tri-panel display features information on Linden H. Chandler, the Palos Verdes blue butterfly, and the preserve's trail system. Furthermore, the Los Angeles Conservation Corps has volunteered a work crew to repair and maintain a number of trails damaged by this winter's heavy rain. The community-led advisory board has met two times this year supporting the Land Conservancy's commitment to involve the local community in the management of its preserves.

New interpretive signage displays a trail map and historical information on the Chandler Preserve.

Defense Fuel Supply Point and Nursery

The arrival of spring means that the Palos Verdes blue butterfly is in flight at the DFSP. A healthy natural population has been observed and the Navy's captive breeding program will once again help assure the survival of this butterfly species at the DFSP. The nursery continues to propagate plants for the restoration projects underway at the Preserves.

Students from Rancho Vista Elementary school listen to a volunteer on their walk in Chadwick Canyon.

Education Program

PVPLC docents are busy bringing our education program and nature walk to third grades all over the Peninsula. This year we are adding Point Fermin Elementary in San Pedro to the 15 other schools that enjoy the program.

Forrestal Nature Preserve

The Rancho Palos Verdes City Council approved a revised Management Plan for the Preserve, including a plan for a trail system and uses. The Land Conservancy is accepting applications for the Forrestal Advisory Board (call the office or visit our web page for an application). The Board's first task will be to review a list of projects for the Preserve, including trail improvements.

Once again, REI is teaming up with the PVPLC during National Trails Day on Saturday, June 4. Volunteers are needed to repair and maintain trails and habitat at the Forrestal Preserve from 9am to noon. We encourage everyone to join in and make this day a big success.

This year is the best in recent memory for wildflowers. Visit the Forrestal Preserve to see a bumper crop of mariposa lilies, paintbrush, bush sunflowers and wild hyacinths.

Members of CORBA lend a hand to help maintain trails at Forrestal in March.

George F Canyon Preserve

Spring rains caused some damage to the trail, but the City of RHE has completed repair work and the Preserve welcomes visitors. When the Nature Center is open, you'll see a new directional sign on the corner, the goal being to increase the number of visitors. The Nature Center is open from 1pm to 4pm on Fridays and from 10am to 4pm on Saturdays and Sundays.

We're also forming an Advisory Board for the Center and Canyon. Please call the office or check the PVPLC web page for an application.

Lunada Canyon Preserve

With the help of two Eagle Scout candidates, Chris Jensen and Kevin Webb, and Girl Scout Lauryn Gold working on her gold award, the Land Conservancy completed the restoration of an acre of wetland at the top of the canyon. The restoration will provide food and shelter for native fauna, improve water quality, and help with erosion control on the immediate area.

Peninsula High students from Ben Smith's AP class in Environmental Studies help out at Lunada Canyon.

Progress Updates

White Point Nature Preserve

In partnership with the South Bay Volunteer Center, more than 50 volunteers gathered and assisted in planting an acre of coastal sage scrub for Caesar Chavez Day in March. "The work we have done with the Land Conservancy has inspired our youth members to be active participants in the environment. We now act as stewards of Harbor Regional, the park near our center," said Enrique Iribe of the Boys and Girls Club of the South Bay.

The Los Angeles Conservation Corps has assisted with the grassland restoration project by planting hundreds of herbs and shrubs. Prior to any planting, the Corps members removed several large infestations of garland daisy (Chrysanthemum coronarium) and mallow (malva sp.). Approximately 30 acres of grassland were seeded in 2004 and six acres were re-seeded in January 2005. The goal of the seeding is to provide an ample seedbank that will enable perennial bunchgrasses to germinate and become established. As large stands of the native grasses sway in the breeze, we are reminded of the success of our seeding efforts. Non-native grasses remain prolific; however, we hope that with continued persistence, a more pure grassland will thrive.

Our community-led Advisory Board continues to meet monthly. They are focusing now on providing input for selecting a consultant to develop an Interpretive Plan for the site. The Plan, which will be developed this spring, will draw on applied psychology, communications, recreation and learning theories, to tell the story of White Point through signage, wayside exhibits and printed materials. We wish to create a highly successful visitor experience, and highlight the site's natural and cultural history.

Long-Missing Butterfly May be Breeding at Forrestal!

by Martin Byhower

On Saturday, February 19, I was birding in one of my favorite local spots, Forrestal Canyon. It is the last bastion for many local species of birds (butterflies and plants, too!) Of course, I am always checking out the plants and butterflies, since this area could and does turn up interesting life of all sorts. I ran into my friends Carol Selvey and Kevin Larson, and we began exploring together. We noticed a blue butterfly in the large colony of Astragalus (rattleweed) on the trail above the quarry bowl. We all knew that this plant was/is the host plant for the endangered PV blue butterfly, which used to occur here and which will hopefully recolonize the area.

However, when I looked closely at the critter, I saw that it had a tail! A lot of butterflies have a tail-like extension on their hindwing, which serves as a "fake head," evolved to lure predators away from more vital regions. But the only Blue that has a tail and could be here was one deemed extirpated from the area for 30 years!

Looking around, we found a brownish butterfly without a tail, which turned out to be a very ragged female Western Tailed-Blue. A few days later, Bill Ailor photographed a haggard but clearly identifiable male WTB! So it looks like we may have a nascent recolonization of this species, and if it has returned, we can hope that others, including the PV blue, will follow. Who knows what else will turn up in this remarkable Nature Preserve, which I believe functions as no less than a main branch of the Genetic Library of our Island-Peninsula's Natural Biological Heritage!

PVPLC Website Gets a New Look!

If you've visited the Land Conservancy website lately, you've probably noticed a few changes. After ten years, it was time to update a lot of our content and we thought we'd give it a fresh new look as well. Portuguese Bend Artist Colony member Rick Humphrey designed the new page and volunteer webmaster J.C. Kern translated Rick's concept to our website. J.C. then spent many hours helping us add and update information, documents, photos and links. We've added some new capabilities too. Now, you can even view our new "Fulfill the Dream" DVD on the web and keep up on the progress of our Capital Campaign.

We think you'll be pleased with the result, and we hope you'll have an opportunity to visit soon to enjoy all the new pictures as well as the information. Our website address remains the same at www.pvplc.org

Special Thanks

Our Capital Campaign public launch was a huge success largely due to the planning and hard work of our Special Events volunteer group. We sincerely thank Diana Bailey, Judy Flanagan, Bob and Olga Jones, Gary and Mary Lopes, Allison Phillips, Deena Sheridan, and Julie Winter as well as Mona Dill from the RPV Parks & Recreation Dept.

Preservation of Open Spaces

A Statement of Purpose

The Palos Verdes Peninsula Land Conservancy is a nonprofit, nonpolitical, public-benefit corporation formed to preserve undeveloped land in perpetuity as open space for historical, educational, ecological, recreational and scenic purposes.

A diverse group of volunteers from the South Bay makes up the PVPLC's managing Board of Directors and its adjunct advisory board. These private citizens have been drawn together by their belief that open space is crucial to the well-being of our community.

Land acquisition by the PVPLC is through purchase and gift. In addition to the good will engendered by gift giving, landowners and others who donate land or funds to the PVPLC may realize significant tax benefits.

Catch the Neighborhood Spirit at Spring for White Point

"A community of people concerned with saving the open space around them";

"Walking through White Point gives me a feeling of serenity and wonder of the beauty of nature";

"Having access to this wonderful, wild open space has had a profound impact on my children who constantly discover new things and have developed a deep love and respect for nature."

These are a few comments from individuals when asked what White Point means to them. It is in this spirit that the community gathers annually at Spring for White Point to support the coastal resource, the White Point Nature Preserve.

Each year the Committee pulls together an incredible selection of art for the silent auction. In various media and a range of styles, these one-of-a-kind artworks are reason alone to attend this great event.

But there's much more! This year's live auction will have bidders competing for a private condo in Maui, a 2-week holiday rental in Australia, kayak and flying lessons and many more fun and exciting prizes, all donated by local businesses or residents.

We thank the many talented artists and generous businesses who help support Spring for White Point.
